Scot is out on indefinite leave; no reason or particulars or return date given. I called and was referred to Allen Koblin. I sent him an email.

For another property I'd go out and survey, but loitering around an elementary school seems like a bad idea. There are several buildings, so it's not a quick task.

Dennis, do you have any other suggestions? Neither Assessor nor LADBS has any records of any of the structures at Westminster Elementary (there are quite a few, and some appear to be portables.)

Tara,

Dennis said contacting Scot Graham was the right thing to do first. If you don't have any luck with that, Dennis can suggest how when we have no other good info.

Just FYI - Scot has an automated out-of-office reply saying he's on leave with no date of return given. It just gives a main # to call. I called and was referred to Allen Koblin as someone who might be able to help or know who could. They didn't properly connect me to his voicemail so I sent him an email.

I'll keep you posted with any updated contact info I get, since I imagine many of the BIDs will be looking for Scot during petition season.

I am a BID consultant retained by the Venice proponent group that is working to form the proposed Venice Beach BID. LAUSD has one property - Westminster Elementary School - within the proposed BID. (I have cc'd Rick and Miranda in the LA City Clerk's office; they can confirm this.)

The Assessor has no record of the square footage for any of the buildings on this site. No LADBS permits exist for any of the structures. The mailing address used is 1010 Abbott Kinney, although the property also has entrances on surrounding streets.

There are several buildings and portables on the site, and we need to identify the SF of them. Is this information you can obtain? Or can you put me in touch with someone on the Facilities side of LAUSD who might be able to help?

Thank you.

P.S. We are aware of and will be consistent with the LAUSD memo regarding BID assessments.

Tara, the LAUSD is the best hope for accurate building sqft. Failing that, print the google map, get the appropriate scale, and measure the building dimensions from the print-out (making sure to see if there are any multi-story structures).

Thanks - that was what we had in mind. LAUSD is the only data holding us back from finishing the dbase/tables/MDP and shipping them to Ed, which I would like to do by tomorrow.

If I don't hear from LAUSD soon, we'll conservatively estimate building dimensions. This site shouldn't be too hard...if my memory is correct (we'll use Google Earth to verify), it's all one-story and probably doesn't have complicated features like light wells, etc.

We'll use that to move forward, and can later correct if we get data from LAUSD. I'll make a note to follow up with them weekly for awhile.

Thanks!

Yes. I'll send him the revised database (which will include the MDP tables in tabs) as soon as we complete it, which I hope will be tomorrow.

We're going to do a conservative calculation for LAUSD and plug it in so we can move the process along. I'll keep on LAUSD to try to get a more precise # and we can plug it in later.

Thanks for your help!
